Dear Sayali Shailesh Moghe,

Congratulations! I am pleased to inform you that you have been accepted to the Master of Science in Artificial Intelligence and Innovation (MSAII) degree program in the Language Technologies Institute of the School of Computer Science at Carnegie Mellon University, starting with the Fall 2021 semester.

The MSAII program is designed to develop the mental flexibility and technical skills that are required to solve hard problems in any field that deals with complex systems. Our students acquire technical skills such as software development, big data analytics, machine learning, information retrieval, content management, text and data mining, and artificial intelligence techniques such as speech recognition, neural networks and deep learning.

For additional information regarding your admission to the MSAII program, please visit this link <https://msaii.cs.cmu.edu/additional-information-admitted-students>

Graduate student tuition for the 2021-22 academic year is $26,500 per semester. In addition to tuition, graduate students must pay several fees assessed by the university – the Port Authority fee, Technology fee and Activities fee. The program requires four semesters of study. An internship is required during the summer between the second and third semesters.

There are additional costs for the summer semester before you first arrive on campus. The required 6-unit 15-513 “Introduction to Computer Systems” course is delivered remotely and there will be a fee charged for this course. If you have sufficient background in Python, you may instead take 11-637, “Foundations of Computational Data Science,” which is also 6 units. You must take, and pass, one or the other. We will notify you of the fee as soon as possible. This 6-unit tuition fee will be due by May 21, 2021. You may take the course Pass/No Pass (the equivalent of Pass/Fail). If you do not pass the course, you will be required to take it on campus after you arrive in addition to all your other courses.

Please note that international students choosing to accept our offer of admission to the MSAII program will also be required to submit all of the required paperwork to the Office of International Education through the MYOIE portal. You can find all of the relevant information here. (You cannot log in to this system until you’ve accepted your admission and been entered as a new student)
