VESIT is a learning temple founded on the principles of ethics and value-based education. Academic freedom, intellectual integrity, and the fair and respectful treatment of others are all ethical principles that faculty and students must enshrine. The concept of academic freedom is central to the academic enterprise. From a student's perspective, the basic pillars of ethical practices such as independence, prevention of harm to others, extending a helping hand to all, justice, and fidelity are constantly discussed and etched in the minds of our students. The basic cultures instilled on campus are universal brotherhood, self-confidence development, a broad and open mind to help the poor and needy, empathy for the oppressed, and ready-to-help attitudes.

Professional ethics is an inevitable standard that should be deeply ingrained in the minds of young students in order to transform them from the heavily contaminated commercial environment to which they are exposed. As Swami Vivekananda visualized our youth we celebrate National Youth Day and conduct blood donation camps to mark the occasion.

Student orientation Programs on Professional Ethics and Human Values are conducted every year during the start of the Academic session. Induction programs are conducted for undergraduate students. During the induction programs academic professionals from different fields will address the students about the various ethics that a student should follow during the course of study. The Code of ethics to be followed is available in the VESIT website and circulated to the students. An Exclusive program on professional ethics and Human values was conducted for the First year engineering students during the start of the academic year. The school of engineering offers a course on "Professional Communication & Ethics" to all the engineering students

1.Report on FE UHV Activities 22-23

Introduction

The biggest motivation and intention behind starting an Engineering degree in VES Society was not only to train young and dynamic students in their respective branches but also to transfer them into individuals having a holistic approach towards life and burning desire to work for the betterment of the country. VESIT firmly believes in inculcating and nurturing good values in its students so that they will not only become successful engineers but also responsible members of the society and nation.

Universal Human Values

This year, since the college started in offline mode, UHV FE induction sessions were conducted in offline mode in the Auditorium for all the First year students. The main motive behind conducting these sessions was to familiarize the students with the ethos and environment of the institution and inculcate and reinforce basic universal human values in them.

The sessions were taken by Dr. Pooja Kundu and Dr. Sushil Dhuldhar, Assistant Professors ,Humanities and Applied Sciences Department. Dr. Pooja Kundu commenced the session with the basic introduction to values and Universal Human Values and its prime importance in one's life. The session then outlined that the prime need of value education is to understand human aspirations, to discover what is truly valuable (human value) in life. Students were asked to draw their tree of life and give their introduction in a particular given format. The content of education as being universal, rational, natural, verifiable and leading to harmony was described. It was stressed that the process of value education has to be a process of self exploration, rather than being prescriptive. It explored the role of right understanding, relationship and physical facility for the happiness and prosperity of human beings. Dr. J.M.

Nair, Principal VESIT also motivated the students and told them to work hard in order to achieve their goals in life. She also acquainted the students with the holistic approach which the college employs to develop the overall personalities of the students.

Fig 1: UHV FE induction session

The students thoroughly enjoyed and enthusiastically shared their introductions and basic human aspirations.

Fig 2: Glimpse of UHV FE induction session

Through various concrete and diverse examples it was proposed that basic human aspiration for all human beings is happiness and prosperity. A short film was also screened called"Identity" after which the literal and implied meaning of the movie was discussed. The students thoroughly enjoyed the sessions and gave the feedback that more sessions like this should be organized to build the right understanding and confidence in students.

Report on Beach Cleaning on Dadar Beach

Date: 25.3.23
No of Participants: 60

Dadar Beach is a popular beach located in Mumbai, India. Over the years, the beach has become increasingly polluted due to littering and improper waste disposal. To combat this issue, regular beach cleaning drives are arranged by the faculties and students of Vivekananda Education Society's Institute of Technology,Mumbai in collaboration with Mr. Jay Shringupuria.

 The drive was arranged this time by the Department of Humanities and Applied Sciences in collaboration with UHV Club of college with the objective of raising awareness among the students about the importance of keeping the environment clean and reducing the amount of plastic waste that ends up in the ocean.

The drive was part of a larger initiative by the institution to promote sustainable practices and environmental awareness among its students.

The students of the Department of Humanities and Applied Sciences along with the Assistant Professors Dr. Pooja Kundu,Ms. Ramya Tirumalshetty and Dr. Sushil Dhuldhar arrived at the beach early in the morning at 7.45 a.m. armed with gloves, masks, and trash bags. They spent two hours collecting litter, including plastic bottles, food wrappers, polythenes,milk packets,plastic sacks etc. from the beach and its surrounding areas. The professors also interacted with beachgoers , educating them about the importance of keeping the environment clean and reducing the use of plastic.
A lot of plastic waste was collected. After the beach cleaning drive the students were provided with breakfast .

The beach cleaning drive by the students of VESIT was a great success, achieving its objective of raising awareness about the importance of keeping the environment clean and reducing plastic waste. The initiative also served as an excellent example of how young people can take the lead in promoting sustainable practices and environmental awareness in their communities.The initiative serves as an excellent example of how collective action can bring about change and help preserve our natural resources.

Incorporating Universal Human Values in Technical Education (An AICTE Initiative) for faculties

University of Mumbai in collaboration with the AICTE has organized an online webinar on "Universal Human Values" for the various colleges which also includes faculties from VESIT who have successfully registered and completed the workshop.The workshop is about our living (not just living with fulfillment but living with continuous fulfillment, which is the basic human aspiration). Deep down, every human being wants to live with continuous fulfillment as an individual and wants to participate in their family, society and the entire nature for a conducive environment, for the fulfillment of others. Education is expected to facilitate the realization of these aspirations.

More than 40 universities in the Nation have adopted this approach as it has proven to be universal, logical, verifiable and in the interest of harmony (the wellbeing of all). Adopting this approach in 2017, AICTE has taken the lead to materialize such education.

 It also aligns to the intent of the draft National Education Policy 2019, which is developed around a vision of education for > • The "full development of human personality" and
> • The creation of a "just and equitable society"

This short, on-line workshop is specially designed for sharing AICTE's approach for inculcating universal human values and cultural enrichment. The workshop will primarily cover a universal approach for value inculcation (proposals about the full expanse of human existence will be shared for exploration and verification). It will touch upon a universal approach for the enrichment of culture, literature and health. All the staff of the VESIT college are motivated to attend the UHV FDP conducted by AICTE

Detailed Report

STREET PLAY ON ANTI RAGGING AND ANTI SEXUAL HARASSMENT

The Cultural Council 22-23 under the guidance of Cultural In-charges : Mr. Prasad Godse, Dr. Rohini Temkar & Dr. Nandini Ammangi conducted a street play on Anti Ragging and Anti Sexual Harassment on 13th March 2023 at 12:45 pm in Amphitheatre.

Street play was performed by Ameya Roplekar (D11), Soham Shetye (D10A), Ayush Singh (D9B), Harsh Shah (D4A), Sanchit Kulkarni (D1EC), Shreyas Akmanchi (D4B) , Soham Tawade (D7C) and Swayam Gaikwad (D6AD). Kaustubh Natalkar (D4B) was also a part of street play who used the Clapbox to give beats for the dialogues.

As the title itself suggests, the street play mainly focused on spreading awareness regarding Ragging and Sexual Harassment happening on and off the campus. It portrayed a short story of 2 young boys played by Shreyas and Sanchit who've just joined the college and how the seniors (Ameya and Ayush) try to rag them.
Seniors abuse juniors racially and make them dance and sing forcefully.
The juniors feel very embarrassed and lose all hope and confidence as this was happening with them every day. One day, a student (Soham) counseled the juniors not to keep quiet and complained to the anti ragging cell. The boy gathered courage and filed a complaint against them to the anti ragging cell of the college. The Anti ragging cell caught the seniors red handed the next day while ragging and handed them over to the police.

After this, a scene was shown where a girl (Played by Soham) from a far away town joins the college, where she encounters some boys(Ayush Ameya) following and gazing at her daily. One day as she was returning home, the boys went behind her and tried to sexually abuse her. She was very traumatized by this incident and didn't attend the college for a few days.
Her friend (Harsh) got to know about this and he motivated and pushed her to complain about them, but she was scared by the societal effect it'll have on her image. Harsh explained to her why it's important to complain against these people and stop this culture from spreading more. On complaining, the boys were immediately taken to the police custody.

Swayam and Harsh played the roles of orators who were giving information regarding the scenes in between

At the end, all the important helpline numbers regarding anti ragging cell and anti sexual harassment cell were displayed. The actors gave a befitting message about these topics and exclaimed why we shouldn't overshadow them and go against these things. The Street play ended up with a pledge about Anti Ragging and Anti Sexual Harassment.

The ideation of the street play was done by the Drama Head Ameya Roplekar and was set under the guidance of Cultural Faculty In-charges.

It was an 8 minute long Street play that received a great response, video was recorded of the same and was circulated all over the college for those who missed it.
